BARRE'S "SANE FOURTH."

The board of aldermen, at their meeting last evening, started a movement for a so-called "sane Fourth," something which other and larger cities have tried and found themselves unable to accomplish. But unlike some cities Barre will not attempt to choke off legitimate celebration of the great day, and for that reason the efforts may be rewarded with success. The order that no fireworks, etc., shall be set off except on the Fourth itself is certainly a sane proposition and commends itself as proper restriction. Heretofore the youths of the city have observed any day as the Fourth whenever they could secure the necessary gun powder and fire-works with which to make a noise. This year the aldermen have ordered that no one who has been granted a license to sell these generators of noise shall dispose of their wares except on Saturday, preceding the Fourth and the day itself. Strictly adhered to, this ruling will obviate to a large degree the abuses of previous years. If the dealers in fire-crackers, etc., are prevented from selling, except on the occasions noted, these premature celebrations will be done away with. The day preceding the Fourth being Sunday there will be all the more need of a thorough enforcement of the order promulgated by the aldermen last evening. Let the youths restrain themselves until the proper time arrives, and then let them give vent to all the corked-up enthusiasm that is within them.

The Democrats of the state are reminding O. M. Barber of Bennington, who is to write the platform for the Republican state convention tomorrow, what an excellent opportunity for good he has. All of which Mr. Barber will undoubtedly consider and do as his views of the situation deem necessary. There are really few men in the state who are in as good a position to understand what the Republican party should enunciate in its platform as Mr. Barber who has had the advantage of being many years in the political life of the state. We look for a good, strong platform.

Joseph Battell of Middlebury, also of Ripton, appears to be setting his lines to be elected to the legislature so that he can urge his liquor dispensary bill. If Battell is successful in his first endeavor—to be elected to the legislature—he need not expect so patient a legislature as listened to him two years ago. The members of that body this fall will not have a disposition to spend any time on liquor legislation needlessly.

The master minds which arranged affairs so that the doctors and the undertakers of Vermont should be in session in Burlington at the same time had an eye to the natural sequence. The doctors reached there first and were soon followed by the undertakers.

And Haskins has had his ratification meeting, also Foster in the first district. The meetings were about an unanimous as a satisfied constituency could make them.

There will be lively times in Montpelier tonight and tomorrow, for a governor of Vermont will be selected.

The Music Cure.

[The use of music as a cure for various nervous disorders is becoming popular in Boston.—News Item.]

Are you ill, my hapless brother? Is your liver out of whack? Are you cured with indigestion or a weak and aching back? Are you tired of existence? Does your blood flow slowly creep? Do you dream that you are falling after you have gone to sleep? Then you're sick—that much is certain, and you ought to take a tour to the classic burg of Boston, just to try the music cure.

If you have appendicitis you can fight it off, I swear. By absorbing several measures of "The Weakening of the Green." If your pulse is slow and sluggish you'll be made another man. When you hear that band of Sousa's tearing off "El Capitan." And in case your nerves are shattered you can get a soothing trance. When an orchestra of fifty plays the oriental dance.

On to Boston, hapless brother! Try the famous music cure. Swell enough to please the smart set, cheap enough to please the poor. Even if it doesn't cure you with its sweet, melodious charm. Such a gentle, mild prescription cannot do you any harm.

And, when hope is quite abandoned, with your last despairing breath. Did them play a Marry ballad, so that you can welcome death!

TO WED JAMES J. VAN ALLEN.

Mrs. Samuel Chauncey Engaged to Newport Millionaire.

New York, June 29.—In the report that has reached New York from Newport that James J. Van Allen has won the heart and hand of the beautiful Alice Carr Chauncey, widow of Samuel Sloan Chauncey, one more romance has been added to the romantic career of the beautiful Indiana girl whose life has many romances.

Newport hears that Mrs. Chauncey, with the dowager Duchess of Manchester, has sailed on the same steamship with Miss May Van Allen and the latter's grandmother, Mrs. Astor, and that Mrs. Chauncey and the dowager duchess will visit Wakehurst, the home of the Van Allens.

Mrs. Chauncey's rise to social prominence has been meteoric. Twelve years ago, as the daughter of a widow, she, her younger sister, Grace, and a younger brother lived in Indiana on the banks of the Ohio river, just above Jeffersonville, unknown except by their own townspeople.

When she was nineteen she made a visit to friends in Louisville, where she sprang into popularity at once. She became the belle of not only Louisville, but of Kentucky. Miss Carr met Samuel Sloan Chauncey, one of the millionaires Chaunceys of Brooklyn, while spending part of a summer at a resort in the east with a Miss Alice Hughes, a Louisville girl of prominence. Mr. Chauncey fell in love with her at once, and the following winter their engagement was announced.

Samuel Sloan Chauncey developed consumption and went to Denver, where his death followed. After his death Mrs. Chauncey was hailed wherever she went as "the most beautiful widow in the world."

PROHIBITION CONVENTION.

Miles Still in the Lead For Presidential Nomination.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 29.—One thousand delegates and visitors to the national prohibition convention have arrived, but as they have distributed themselves among the smaller hotels and in boarding houses where no bars are maintained their presence in the city is scarcely noticeable. The arrivals represent many states and territories.

National Chairman Stewart of Chicago has begun taking a lead in the opposition to the nomination of General Miles. State Chairman Jones of Pennsylvania is at the head of the Miles forces. The fight against General Miles is declared to be contingent upon his continued silence as to his position on the prohibition movement and as to his willingness to be the party candidate. The postponed caucus of those who opposed Miles' nomination was held at the Claypool.

Homer T. Castle of Pittsburgh has arrived with the Pennsylvania delegation and declared himself in favor of the nomination of General Miles.

"I shall vote for him with the other 144 Pennsylvania delegates," said he. When it was intimated to Mr. Castle that his own name was being mentioned for second place on the ticket with General Miles he smiled and said it was not time to consider that feature.

AIRSHIP WRECKED.

Vandal Cuts Up Bag of Santos-Dumont's Balloon.

St. Louis, June 29.—Some time during the night the gas bag of Santos Dumont's airship was cut and slashed in such a manner as to preclude all possibility of its being repaired in time to allow an ascension on July 4th. The work was apparently done with a jack-knife. There are at least twenty long rips in the bag, and Professor Carl Meyers, who has charge of the aeronautic contests, declares that it will take at least two weeks to repair the damage.

Secretary Walter D. Stevens of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition company said that, as soon as the fair officials could consult, measures would be taken for apprehending the vandal and for the protection of the airship.

When the damage was done the shed that sheltered the gas bag was patrolled by a Jefferson guard and a special watchman, who was one of Mr. Dumont's employees. Neither saw anything of the vandal, and the damage was not discovered until the workmen were about to take the bag from the box.

SECRETARIES SAY GOODBYE.

Knox and Cortelyou Attend Their Last Cabinet Meeting.

Washington, June 29.—Attorney General Knox and Secretary of Commerce and Labor Cortelyou took leave of their cabinet associates at the semi-weekly meeting. Their successors, Secretary Moody and Victor H. Metcalf, are expected to take the oath of their new offices next Friday, the beginning of the new fiscal year. Paul Morton, Secretary Moody's successor in the navy department, probably will not assume the duties of his office until next Monday.

Both President Roosevelt and members of the cabinet paid cordial tributes to the retiring officials. Mr. Cortelyou, while he leaves the cabinet, in taking up the duties of the chairman of the Republican national committee will remain in close touch with the president and the cabinet. When Secretary Cortelyou returns from the department of commerce and labor next Friday he will take a rest of about a week.

The president has urged him to do this before beginning the arduous work of the campaign. He will return to Washington before the middle of July, and during the remainder of that month he and Secretary Dover will have headquarters at the Arlington hotel. Campaign headquarters will be opened in New York and Chicago about the 1st of August, but it is not expected that the campaign work will be in full operation before Sept. 1.

COLLEGE AND SCHOOL.

The Birmingham (England) school authorities not only teach the children how to cook, but how to shop economically.

In the schools of Rhenish Prussia a change of stockings and shoes is provided for the use in school of children who arrive with wet feet.

Chiu Yung Yen is the name of the first Chinaman to whom Columbia university has ever awarded a fellowship. He is a student in constitutional law.

Of the 19,500 children in the public schools at Worcester, Mass., 10,804 are of foreign parentage, and these children represent thirty-nine nationalities.

Hats in Korea.

There is a language of hats in Korea, and the twenty or more styles have each a voice and meaning. If a man is in mourning, sixteen square feet of matting are shaped in a pyramid two feet high for his head covering.
